AMERICAN RED CROSS WORKERS BUSY IN FRANCE

Miss Mabel Wilcox, who left Kauai last July to enter the American Red Cross Nursing Service, writes interestingly of her work in France. Crossing the Atlantic in December, she proceeded to Paris, where she spent Christmas, and in January was sent to Le Havre, where the American Red Cross, in conjunction with the Belgian Red Cross Commission, is organizing relief work amongst children and refugees. Not only are the Belgian and Flemish people to be aided, but the French government has requested that the Americans undertake the work there for the poor and needy French people. Miss Wilcox writes that Le Havre, with its shipping and military bases, and troops going and coming has a far more military aspect than Paris. Some idea of the congestion in the city may be grasped from the statement which she makes that since the war began Le Havre has doubled its population and not a single new house has been built. Just at present the Belgian Government is erecting portable houses in the outskirts of the city, which later on may be moved up into Belgium, as that country is re-occupied.

In the latter part of March Miss Wilcox was in Paris again to secure supplies and to meet Miss Ethel Damon of Honolulu, who had crossed over to go into the Canteen Service, but who, by arrangement was transferred on arrival to the Red Cross service at Le Havre and will assist Miss Wilcox in the work there. The two ladies were in Paris during some of the worst air raids and long range gun bombardments of the city. Early in April, they were back again in Le Havre, and Miss Wilcox writes on April 14th as follows:

"We are now quite busy. We have dispensary hours from 9 to 12, and then home visits in the afternoons. Dr. Park has a Belgian nurse who speaks French, Flemish and English to go with him to visit the Belgians, and so far Ethel and I have taken the French cases. At the present rate of progress, we will soon have to have the Dispensary open all day and double or triple our workers. Dr. Rothholz, a woman doctor, whom Dr. Park sent for, has been in Paris two months trying to get her papers to come up here. I hope she will get them soon and join us. Our Dispensary rooms are not done yet, but we are working in a part of the building that is ready. It is certainly a crude Dispensary, and none of our supplies have come, but despite that, we are doing a rushing business, and as the old saying that John Hopkins people are strong on "kind words and cold water" is coming true over here, A great deal of our work of course will be Social Service Work, and besides dispensing drugs and prescriptions, we will give out food tickets and food prescriptions."

"Once more I am deep in Hospital plans, for we hope to have two bars."

New Post Master Takes Charge Here

Last Saturday saw the advent of a new post master for Lihue.

Mr. M. G. Santos the new post master officially took charge and relieved Mr. Crawford from his duties.

This change was made not on account of any political change, but because Mr. Crawford has too much other business to attend to and had asked for a successor to be appointed to fill his place.

This position Mr. Crawford has held for the past eighteen years. He is also the Cashier and Manager of the Lihue Branch of the Bank of Hawaii. He will still continue on in this position.

Mr. Santos the new post master was formerly the editor of "O Lucio" a Portuguese news paper in Honolulu, and before that connected with another paper in Hilo. He is well qualified for his new position and all wish him success and welcome him very cordially to our midst.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the kind people of the Kapaa Homesteads and Kealia, for the great help, and sympathy, extended to us during the illness and death of my wife, and also the kind people of Lihue for the wonderfully beautiful funeral, made possible by their assistance, and flowers, and the extreme sympathy shown us in this our greatest grief.

Y. M. C. A. MEN ARRIVE ON KAUAI FOR ISLAND TOUR

Kauai is to be treated to one of the greatest treats that she has ever had, the coming, and the talks of Captain Pequegnat and Mr. Sherman, the Y. M. C. A. workers who have just returned from the front, but recently.

Mr. Sherman is not only a great orator, in the highest and most comprehensive sense of the word; he is a great actor, a tragedian, who sweeps his hearers with him against their will. He is more than a word painter. He does more than picture a battlefield; he takes you to the battlefield, and when he starts back, with his hand over his eyes you see with him hundreds and hundreds of reeling men, shattered, bleeding, torn, maddened by shell shock. You hear the whizz-bang; you feel the hiss of the bullets, almost, you smell the awful gasses. Your really imagine that you are on the battlefield with him.

Captain Pequegnat served three years and a half on the west front with the Canadians, finally being put out of commission by a boche gas attack which laid him out unconscious for five days. He does not figure that he is out of it entirely however, and plans to return to the lines when his furlough ends.

He is declared to be an entertainer of rare power, and certainly is one of unusual experience. He assisted in organizing the Red Triangle's mob singing and amusements among the British soldiers in France and Belgium, among the Canadians at home and in the training camps in the states.

They will arrive on Tuesday morning and proceed to Kapaa School, where they will address the home-steaders and at Kilauea in the afternoon. Then on to Hanalei in the evening.

On Wednesday evening they will be at Waimea and on Thursday evening at Elelee. Returning to Lihue on Friday where they will speak in the evening.

Don't fail to hear them as you will miss the opportunity of your life if you do.

FELT THE SHARKS AS HE SWAM IN NAWILIWILI BAY

For Sale at the Sheriff's Office, one perfectly good, unsworned Warrant for Assault and Battery.

Last Friday morning, a Japanese rushed into the office of the Sheriff, looking as though the whole German army was pursuing him. After looking suspiciously in the corners and under the table he finally managed to tell the Sheriff that he wanted a warrant for the arrest of one, Captain Matsuda of Sampan No. 79.

After much questioning it was found out that he was a member of the crew of that boat and that on the evening before the Captain had imbibed a little too much Saki and had chased him all over the boat. The other members of the crew had tried to stop the Captain from taking the life blood of our hero, but were unavailing in their efforts. So finally when the Captain had him cornered, he decided that he would rather be a "Jonah" and so left the sampan via the water route. He said that while he was in the water that he could feel the sharks rubbing up against him as he swam. After battling with the waves for about an hour and a half he made a landing near the lighthouse and, then came to the Sheriff for protection.

So while the stenographer was making the warrant ready another Japanese showed up and immediately commenced to tell the Sheriff that he had lost a man overboard in the harbor. By putting two and two together the Sheriff came to the conclusion that he had the missing sampan Captain, and so escorted him in to the presence of our hero. They held a conversation for several minutes and finally started to leave the office. But, said the Sheriff, "how about this warrant, it is already for you to go before the Judge and swear to it." "No, no," said the first Japanese, (he is not our hero any longer) "he come all right and get me, if he no come then we have paper and go get him." And then they went away together peacefully and happily.

Sweaters and Socks are Greatest Need

Knitters should speed up the production of socks and sweaters, says the local Red Cross. The American army in France is increasing and the men need the knitted articles when they are in the trenches.

The call has come to disregard such articles as helmets and mufflers for the time being and to concentrate on turning out sweaters and socks as fast as possible. The Red Cross wishes to send a shipment to the Coast on the next boat and to follow that with a shipment every week until the Red Cross headquarters at Washington is satisfied. Then Hawaii will send a few more to be sure that there is not some overlooked Sammie shivering on the fire step of a trench in France.

Sweaters and Socks—those are the articles most needed by the boys over there.

New Head Luna for McBryde Plantation

Harry J. Eby, who was formerly time keeper of the McBryde Sugar Co., and who resigned his position to go to Honolulu to study for a wireless operator for the government, but who failed to pass the physical examinations, has been recalled to McBryde to take the position vacated by Mr. Moler as head luna.

This is well earned promotion for Mr. Eby as he has been an employee of McBryde for the past five years, and has shown by application and hard work that he is capable of filling the position.

He will be welcomed with open arms back to the plantation by all the employees and employers alike.

HAWAIIAN GUARD ARE MOBILIZED INTO SERVICE

The glad word, it was glad word for some, came to the commander of the National Guard on Kauai to commence to mobilize last Saturday.

While the most of the plantation managers will be caught in the labor situation, they have had some little time in which to prepare for this emergency and as several of them said, when approached on the labor subject, "If the government needs them I guess that we can get along somehow."

This is the right way for the plantation people to look at the situation and we are glad that they show this spirit, for the government certainly does need the men otherwise it would not call on them to leave their positions and answer the call to colors.

When we count up the men on Kauai that are in the guard we find that there are nearly 600 that have answered this call. Of the plantations that are close to Lihue, the Lihue Plantation will be hit the hardest losing somewhere in the neighborhood of 125 men, then come Hanalei with about 50 men. Of course there are other plantations that will lose a great many men but we were unable to find out the exact figures.

No one seems to know just when the boys will leave for Honolulu or just what they will do when they get there. However we presume that they will undergo a course of intensive training and then be used to replace the regular army for guard duty around Honolulu.

Up to the time of going to press no word had been received about the draft and we are going to guess again on this subject, and that is, that it won't be called until the guard is fully organized and then it will be recruited up to full war strength from the draft.
